

EDITOR EN ROUTE

The Future of Ranching

Monday September 22nd 2008, 1:48 pm

Filed under: Uncategorized

Inside the luxury riverside yurt

Have you ever enjoyed a massage in a cozy authentic Tee Pee, with a Colorado thunder storm outside? Snuggled up in a luxury yurt with Champagne and berries? Experienced stargazing with a hot Toddie in hand? Taken an aerial tour of the land by helicopter? Well, not to brag or anything, but as of this weekend, I have. I spent the weekend exploring Sandstone American Ranch, which I am now convinced is the most luxurious ranch around, boasting gorgeous home sites and ranching facilities, but more importantly (well, to me at least) amenities beyond what I ever expected a "ranch" might have.

About to see Sandstone's 2,000 acres by air

In the plans: A ranch center with gourmet kitchen, event patio, concierge service.

Categories

Uncategorized

Archives

September 2008

August 2008

July 2008

June 2008

March 2008

January 2008

Search:

RSS Feeds

RSS 2.0

Atom

Add to Google

Add to Yahoo

Add to AOL

Luxury Files

Ultimate Interiors

Elegant Escapes

Dream Developments

Golf Living

The Luxe Lists

Features

Events

News

Magazine

A $9 million equestrian center. A Ranch Farm for communal growing. Owner's Cabins for luxury sleepovers. And lots more.

If you are in the market for an incredible place to retire or a wonderful place to raise children, I would really consider this option. Sandstone is located half way between Colorado Springs and Denver (just a half hour drive in either direction), two hours away from six ski resorts, and minutes from great golf—I golfed at Bear Dance; a truly enjoyable course.

Check out the plans online and you'll be amazed what ranching means by Sandstone standards.

www.arsandstone.com

-Hayley Gudat, Editorial Director, Estates West and Custom Publishing